

Patchwork of the Mind: 16 Short Stories

A psychiatrist invents a machine to cure human fears....a wizard leads his son through a cave hosting a dark and ancient evil....a gunman hunts the drug cartel who killed his family....a soldier comes home from war with a vase and soon experiences his sweetest fantasies and deepest nightmares.... In these 16 short tales from author Devin Stevens, a world of different, astounding layers opens up, with characters as good and evil as they are conflicted with both, trying to understand why they are who they are and where their purposes lie. Sweet, painful romance, mental wildness and illusion, simple events charged with hidden significance, animals who talk and feel like their more dominant relatives, and faith both affirmed and questioned. The hauntings of LittleLeaf...the magic of RainBall...the humor in GoldRock....these places are but small flashes in a greater, mysterious picture, a cosmos captured in human flesh, in which stars move endlessly in color, only relayed by the voice of the storyteller. Devin Stevens welcomes you to his work. To his muse and eternal inspiration. The Patchwork of the Mind
