

Mr. Policeman and the Cook

The policeman and the cook is a short story by Collins about revenge, murder and investigation. Who Killed Zebedee? was its original title. On his deathbed, the narrator describes a murder case in which he was involved as a young man beginning his career as a policeman. John Zebedee is found dead, dismembered, on his bed, and despite his wife confessed to being guilty the case is not closed. The narrator continues to investigate and he discovers a weapon that incriminate the cook Priscilla. The policeman confesses that he discredited the evidence because he was in love with Priscilla and he did not want her to be hung.
